

THE HIKES

Satulah Mountain Preserve

Difficulty: Hard. Beginning in town, the hike goes a mile up paved roads to a cul-de-sac. From there moderate trails traverse a ridge to a southern vista overlooking NC, SC and GA. Length from town: 3 miles round trip (RT).

Brushy Face Preserve

Difficulty: Moderate. Heading out from a cul-de-sac, the trail crosses through a wide range of habitats and over Clear Creek. Length: 1.2 miles RT loop.

Ravenel Park (Sunset Rock)

Difficulty: Moderate. From Horsecove Road the trail climbs a gravel road to two scenic viewpoints, Sunset and Sunrise Rocks. Length from Horsecove Road: 1.1 miles RT. Length from property parking: 0.25 miles RT.

Kelsey Trail

Difficulty: Moderate. From the end of North 5th Street the trail follows an old oxcart trail along a creek and connects to Rhododendron Park. Length from town: 0.7—0.82 miles RT.

Rhododendron Park

Difficulty: Hard. The trail follows a number of stone stairways as it curves around Big Bearpen Mountain through thick rhododendrons. Length from parking: 0.6—0.7 miles RT.

Dixon Park

Difficulty: Easy. A network of trails around the pond and through the woods, covers the flattest of our properties in Highlands.. Length: Variable.

OUR MISSION

Protecting valuable land resources for all generations.

Since protecting its first property in 1909, HCLT has been dedicated to protecting important natural resources on the Highlands-Cashiers Plateau and to providing recreational and environmental education opportunities. While maintaining public access to HCLT properties takes time and money, we prefer to keep our properties fee-free to allow everyone access to enjoy them. HCLT is a non-profit, private organization that depends on donations from people like you. Please consider helping us protect our natural resources and keep our public properties free to access by donating to HCLT.
